

GoDocs vs. LaserPro

A look at what leading lenders say about GoDocs' modern loan document automation versus LaserPro's systems.

GoDocs®

LaserPro

Integration Ease

LaserPro users frequently mention that while integrations sound promising, they're still re-entering data and managing partially connected systems. GoDocs customers validate that with GoDocs, they've eliminated duplicate data entry, gained control over how deeply they integrate, and value a streamlined implementation process that delivers immediate, measurable impact.

"Choosing GoDocs from day one was about partnering with a team that understands the complexities of commercial lending and shares our commitment to fast, compliant, and personalized service."

"Making the change to GoDocs [from LaserPro] was a power move for us!"

Lender-Centric Support

LaserPro users often report that support is slow, hard to reach, and disconnected from the realities of commercial lending. In contrast, GoDocs users benefit from a dedicated Success Team for their first transactions, followed by ongoing access to our onshore team of attorneys and commercial lending experts, providing fast, reliable guidance and true partnership at no additional cost.

"[GoDocs] support is what really sets them apart. Their team never treats us like just another account. They're engaged, consultative, and help us solve issues in real-time."

"Compared to the company we had before, GoDocs is very responsive and accessible."

Handling Complexity

LaserPro users say the system works for simple loans but breaks down with complexity, forcing manual re-keying and turning every document into a custom job. GoDocs users choose it because workflows are customizable from the start. Modular, dynamic document assembly with real-time updates and continuous compliance oversight keeps even complex loans fast, accurate, and controlled.

"[GoDocs] customization options allow us to handle more complex loan structures, combining construction and term elements with ease. The solution fits how we do business."

"We manage complex construction loans that are impossible to automate with LaserPro. GoDocs makes automating standard and sophisticated loans seamless."

GoDocs isn't the vendor you inherit.
